DETAILED ACTION

Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yamaguchi et al. (US 2002/0085858) in view of Kriegel (US 4,993,992).

3. Yamaguchi et al. (...858) disclose an image forming apparatus comprising: a photoconductor (1a, 1b, 1c or 1d) in which a first gear portion (19) is formed on the axis of rotation and on which an electrostatic latent image corresponding to a toner image is formed by a rotation in a circumferential direction (figures 3-6); a developing unit (5a, 5b, 5c or 5d) which is set correspondingly to the photoconductor, and makes visible the electrostatic latent image formed on the photoconductor thereby to form a toner image; and a photoconductor drive shaft having a second gear portion (18) engaging with the first gear portion and formed on an axis of rotation, which gears with the photoconductor on the same axis and rotation drives this photoconductor (figures 3-6). However, Yamaguchi et al. (...858) do not disclose the claimed tooth of the gear portion different from axial lengths of other teeth. Kriegel (...992) disclose a tooth of a gear portion different from axial lengths of other teeth (abstract; col. 3, lines 55-60; col. 5, line 29 – col. 6, line 47; and figures 5 and 6). The gear portion with the longer tooth is a first gear portion and the first gear portion meshes with a second gear portion, wherein when the first gear portion and the second gear portion are in the same phase, only a leading end of the longer tooth of the first gear comes into contact with the leading end of a part of teeth of the second gear (col. 5, line 53 – col. 6, line 66; and figure 6). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have one tooth of a gear portion different from axial lengths of other teeth, as disclosed by Kriegel (...992) so as to ensure precise alignment and repeatable blind mounting of driver and driven halves.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 3-6 and 8-11 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 1/10/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.
6. Applicant argues that neither Kriegel (US 4,993,992) nor Yamaguchi et al. (US 2002/0085858) disclose or suggest that only the tooth that is longer than the other teeth of one gear portion (first gear) comes into contact with a tooth from the other gear portion (second gear) when the first and second gear portions are in the same phase. However, Kriegel (...992) discloses that in the coupling procedure between the first gear portion and the second gear portion, the longer tooth of the first gear portion comes into contact first with the second gear portion, and at the point in time where the first gear portion and the second gear portion are in phase, only the leading end of the longer tooth of the first gear comes into contact with a tooth portion of the second gear (col. 5, line 53 – col. 6, line 66; and figure 6).

Final Rejection

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
